MURDER OF A SOLEDAD BROTHER

"THIS IS IT" was all George Jackson said as he drew a 9mm automatic pistol on the San Quentin guards scheduled to spread his legs and "skin search" him. The master electric locking device was then unlocked by George, and 27 Brothers were out of their cells and into the corridor. Larry Spain, Ruchell Magee, Fleeta Drumgo and John Cluchette were there among the 27. Three guards had their throats cut to death, and so did two snitching trustees. Then, George Jackson and Larry Spain split out into the court yard running toward a twenty foot high wall across the yard. The guards on top of the towers aimed and fired: Bang: George Jackson was DEAD, Larry Spain was in the bushes and got recaptured. The 27 were stripped and thrown out in the court yard with their hands way above their heads. Everybody was locked up under tight security and the California Highway Patrol blocked every road that got near San Quentin.

A Revolutionary

This is the information released by the warden of San Quentin. What actually happened inside the Maximum Security wing may not be fully known for a while, but certain facts should be brought out to clarify the conditions surrounding what we determine to be the murder of Soledad Brother Supreme Revolutionary George Jackson: ANYONE entering San Quentin is thoroughly searched by guards and a machine that detects pieces of metal (like guns). ANYONE visiting George Jackson or any of the other brothers in Maximum Security is especially searched and watched the whole time they are in there. Assistant warden Parks has been waging a psychological war for the past month on what he calls "bullshit talk by dilettante revolutionaries" who inspire inmates to commit murder. Only two of the 27 ("the worst of our incorrigibles" -- Warden Park.) tried to make it over the 20 foot wall and into the WATER. The prison guards, inspired by their wardens and rulers of the state, want revenge for their partners who have been executed recently.

The prisons in the United States are filled with POLITICAL PRISONERS. One will ask: Why are they political prisoners? When a person is oppressed to the extent that he or she has to steal to survive; when a woman has to prostitute herself to survive; when young people have to shoot smack into their veins to survive; when most people in a society are enslaved to perform backbreaking "jobs" in order to survive, when one has to kill to survive, it becomes obvious that the society in which they live is what needs to be abolished, NOT them. The capitalist system is responsible for people prostituting themselves, stealing, hating, killing themselves and others, and the capitalist system of exploitation and racism is GUILTY of breeding the conditions which force people to commit the "crimes" for which they are in prisons. Those in prisons are not the "unlucky ones" who got caught because they fucked up. Those who are in prisons are destined to be there under the capitalist system. They are guilty of trying to survive as righteous human beings who will not submit to the hideous dehumanization of the system.

Prison reforms cannot in any way change the socio-economic conditions which breed "crime". Only the abolishment of the capitalist system, minds, in our souls, and in our actions. We must all come together at Brother George's funeral. George's supreme revolutionary death is not in vain. George's murder will be avenged, 100 to 1.

GEORGE JACKSON LIVES!

which can only come about by armed, violent revolution, CAN change these conditions. The inmates of San Quentin, and all over the United States KNOW this.

Revolutionaries such as George Jackson are a threat to the rulers of the state, because their lives are an example to the People and the more they expose the true nature of the system, the more their "cases" become known to the People, the closer we get to the Revolution. From David Packard to the prison guards, the rulers want these revolutionaries DEAD.

The "living" conditions in the prisons are such that if George Jackson DID attempt to liberate San Quentin almost by himself, it is because he had absolutely nothing to lose, it is because he made the supreme choice of DYING for Freedom, DYING for his PEOPLE, DYING for the Revolution instead of "living" in Maximum Security at San Quentin.

WHATEVER did happen at San Quentin last Saturday, GEORGE JACKSON LIVES FOREVER in our hearts, in our

"If I leave here alive, I'll leave nothing behind. They'll never count me among the broken men, but I can't say that I'm normal either. I've been hungry too long, I've gotten angry too often. I've been lied to and insulted too many times. They've pushed me over the line from which there can be no retreat. I know that they will not be satisfied until they've pushed me out of this existence altogether. I've been the victim of so many racist attacks that I could never relax again...I can still smile now, after ten years of blocking knife thrusts, and the pick handles of faceless sadistic pigs, of anticipating and reacting for ten years, seven of them in solitary. I can still smile sometimes, but by the time this thing is over I may not be a nice person. And I just lit my seventy-seventh cigarette of this twenty-one-hour day. I'm going to lay down for two or three hours, perhaps I'll sleep...

George"
